How much money would Salt Fork receive if implemented?

Each school district in the county would receive a portion of sales tax money that is based on student enrollment. The most recent projection for Salt Fork is as follows:

$372,000 New Money
Every Year

How would Salt Fork use the money?

The Salt Fork school board has identified three major priorities for new CSFT. Money would be allocated if approved by voters.

Priority #1: Freeze the Property Tax Rate

By using CSFT money to pay for facility repairs and renovations, the district can freeze the current property tax rate. The district would focus on doing facility projects on a "pay-as-you-go" basis to avoid having to sell bonds and increase the property tax rate.

Priority #2: Facility Upgrades

The money brought in from the CSFT would go towards improving facilities, such as:

- Improving heating systems and installing air conditioning throughout the district
- Finishing the roof at the South Campus
- Repairing and expanding parking at the North Campus
- Improving drainage at the North Campus
- Installing energy-efficient windows throughout the district

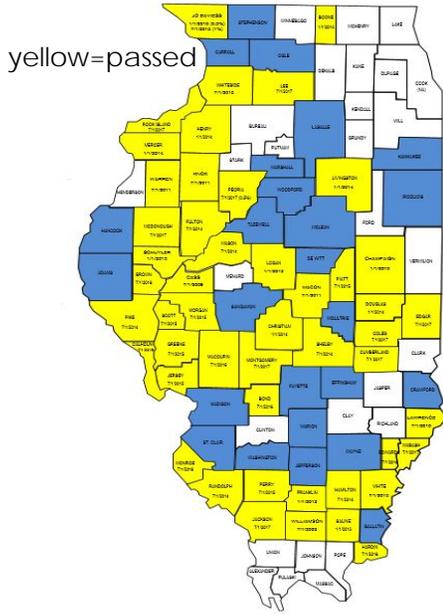

Priority #3: Improve Opportunities

Ultimately improving opportunities for our students is a priority for the district. The following is a tentative plan for how CSFT revenue could be used to accomplish this goal:

- Upgrade technology infrastructure to support an increase in educational technology
- Update science labs
- Purchase new playground equipment
